

Area Civil Defense Director At Meeting of Homeowners

Capt. Joseph J. Rochefort, director of Civil Defense for Area G, which includes Torrance, was principal speaker Monday evening as members of the Hollywood Riviera Homeowners Assn. met at the Parkway Elementary School.

The mobility of the Los Angeles area was cited as the biggest problem facing Civil Defense officials in this area, Captain Rochefort told the Rivierans.

THE OFFICIAL also said individual home fallout shelters would be the best answer "at this time, in the absence of any plan for community shelters." He stressed the difference between fallout shelters and bomb shelters, pointing out that the former were designed only to protect individuals from the harmful effects of radiation. A lively question and answer period followed Captain Rochefort's talk.

Among items discussed during the business portion of the agenda Monday was beautification of Palos Verdes Boulevard and parking on Camino de las Colinas.

TOM ROACH, vice president of the organization, told of progress to date on improving the appearance of Palos Verdes Boulevard through the Riviera.

The group will continue efforts to persuade the city to install a sprinkling system and permit volunteer groups to provide the planting with the city's approval.

Robert Sullivan, corresponding secretary of the group, spoke of parking on Camino de las Colinas, saying the city's fire department was going to make a study of the matter. Rivierans have complained that parking on both sides of the narrow street restrict its full use.

PLANS FOR a youth center in El Retiro Park, which have been advanced by the Riviera Rotary Club, were discussed again, and the Homeowners Assn. voted to delay support of the project until more facts can be made available. In the meantime, Jim Guillet, who reported on the matter, suggested that the Recreation Department study the proposal to determine if the need really exists for a center in El Retiro.

It was indicated later that some of the residents near the park questioned the advisability of such a facility.

RIVIERANS also were reminded of the area Christmas decoration contest. Chairman Lee Shade said all homes in the Hollywood Riviera would be judged. Selection of a panel of judges is underway, he said.

Judging will begin on Dec. 21 and final judging will be Dec. 23. Trophies will be awarded in four categories:

most effective use of lights, religious theme, best block area, and for originality. Winners will receive trophies at the January meeting of the sponsoring Riviera Homeowners.

ELSEWHERE on the Riviera:

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Chase, 120 Via Sego, are leaving Dec. 15 for a two-week tour of Europe. They will fly from New York via Air France directly to Geneva, Switzerland, to spend the Christmas holidays with their son Stephen. Stephen Chase, a former art student at El Camino, is staying with the William P. Lears (of Lear Aircraft) while in Geneva where he is designing the interior for Swiss American Aircraft Corp.'s new executive jet that is coming out next year. Also, Stephen is art editor of "Private Pilots Magazine" in Europe. The Chaso family plans to visit Austria, Italy, and Germany in addition to the ski areas of Switzerland, and hope to take in a number of concerts.

THE RIVIERA Needlework Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. Wayne Pratt, 5625 Paseo de Pablo, Dec. 14, for their annual Christmas party. It will be a potluck luncheon with a gift exchange.

Mrs. Pratt is interested in starting a new chapter of the guild in Palos Verdes Riviera. Anyone interested in joining may call her at FR 5-0795 for information. People who sew and those who do not are invited to join. The group which sews for elderly people and orphanages in the South Bay is always interested in new fabric donations.

THE LAS COLINAS Garden Club will hold its Christmas party Dec. 11 at the home of Mrs. Frank Petersen, 4914 Paseo de las Tortugas. Co-hostesses are Mrs. Wayne Allen and Mrs. Leo Levanas.

The party will include a gift exchange and Mrs. William Thomas will show slides on flower shows she has visited across the country. The club is sponsoring a Christmas Decoration contest in Palos Verdes Riviera Dec. 21.

THE RIVIERA Garden Club is holding a progressive dinner Sunday, Dec. 17, at 6:30 p.m. for club members and their guests. Cocktails will be served at the home of Mrs. Fred Warren, 135 Via Monte D'Oro.

Dinner will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Kimes, 5110 Paseo de Pablo, and after-dinner drinks at the home of Mrs. Robert Short, 5409 Paseo de Pablo.

THE RIVIERA and Las Colinas Garden Clubs will hold a joint meeting Jan. 15 at Riviera School Auditorium. Lee Sharfman, landscape architect, will be the speaker and visitors are welcome to attend.

SERENO PLAYHOUSE, a group of Palos Verdes Riviera youth, will present the classic Charles Dickens play, "A Christmas Carol," at the Chapel Theater in Waverly, starting Dec. 9. Director of the group is, 11-year-old Nancy Vogl of 4909 Via El Sereno. The children's production will be presented Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 3:30 p.m. for three successive weekends. Appearing in the play are: Nancy Vogl, Doug Vogl, Terry O'Halloran, Jim Michel, Dave Michel, Emily Karr, Becky Palmquist, Sue Levanas, Linda Levanas, Mike Levanas, Jerry Levanas, and Lee Nusbaum. Tickets are 50 cents.

THE VISTA del Parque coffee klatch had a baby shower recently for Mrs. Stan Becker at the home of Mrs. Morgan Moore, 161 Vista del Parque. Attending were Mmes. Thomas Roach, John Gitschir, Greg Schiller, Frank Desmond, Ernest Harris, Jim Guillet, John Traub, John Kurth, Richard Pollard, Grant Chandler, Ray Anderson and Mrs. Moore's mother, Mrs. Davis.

LEAVING Hollywood Riviera are Mr. and Mrs. Mel Lipscomb, 108 Vista del Parque. Mr. Lipscomb has been appointed regional sales manager for Baker Caster Oil Co. in San Francisco, with his new territory extending from Palo Alto to Marin County. The Lipscombs plan to move north shortly after the first of the year.

MR. AND MRS. James Mitchell, 106 Via Los Altos, Hollywood Riviera, are holding two open houses on succeeding evenings, Dec. 16 and Dec. 17, to entertain their many friends.
